Epsom care home to become hotel and staff HMO

7 September 2025

A former Surrey care home is being given a new lease of life – not for elderly residents but as a mix of hotel rooms and shared housing.

The Elders, on Epsom Road, Ewell, will now officially become a 12-room guesthouse with an 8-bed HMO (house of multiple occupation), plus a manager's flat, after councillors approved the proposal on September 4.

The decision by Epsom and Ewell Borough Council's planning committee follows a rocky planning history of previous refusals, enforcement notices and accusations the owners were running it without permission.

Cllr Clive Woodbridge said: "Moving it from a sort of limbo where it's operating as it is but without any ability to be regulated – because it's not supposed to be happening – it probably tips my balance."

The building has been empty for several years and developers argue it is no longer suitable for modern care needs.

The scheme has divided opinion with some councillors saying they were uneasy about losing a care facility at a time when demand is only growing. Members noted the loss of the care home – capable of housing up to 24 residents – would also mean a loss of housing.

HMOs tend to have a bad reputation and are sometimes attributed for noisy neighbours and anti-social behaviour. But Cllr Phil Neale admitted this one looked "more for professional people" than "itinerant" workers.

Planning documents reveal the HMO rooms are aimed at housing staff employed by the owners in local care homes, providing affordable accommodation for new workers before moving into the housing market.

Cllr Alison Kelly argued the units could help newcomers find their feet. She said: "It's quite a reasonable use of a HMO."

Not everyone was convinced. Cllr Jan Mason tore into the design, claiming: "It looks like it's been produced on a packet of cigarettes." While Cllr Neale raised concerns about sustainability. He said: "I'm disappointed again that we've missed the opportunity to push solar panels."
