

Aled Jones: Full Circle

10 March 2025

He was the boy treble who captivated hearts with his angelic recording of 'Walking in the Air', firmly establishing himself an integral part of the nation's festivities. Equally at home on the TV, radio, or West End, after 40 years in the business, Aled's looking back on a remarkable career with a one man show that will feature music, tales from the decades, and for the first time ever, his story told in his own words.
