

Choral Evensong marking the 150th anniversary of the birth of Ralph Vaughan Williams

This year marks the 150th anniversary of the birth of English composer, Ralph Vaughan Williams. St Martin's Church choir conducted by Richard Dacey with organist Iain Macfarlane, leads a service of celebration and thanksgiving with some of Vaughan Williams' most celebrated sacred music in a building which he knew well and visited often.