Living Rivers: Free Community Art Exhibition

17 February 2026

Welcome to Living Rivers, a free community art exhibition celebrating our deep connection to rivers and the natural world.

Rivers are the lifeblood of our landscapes, yet many face pollution and neglect. Inspired by Robert Macfarlanes's ""Is A River Alive?"", this community art exhibition brings together local artists, schools, and art groups, including the Royal Marsden and local school, to celebrate the beauty and importance of our rivers and waterways.

Explore a vibrant collection of artwork created by people of all ages from across Epsom and Ewell, each sharing their own unique take on a river's story, magic, and life-giving energy.
