

Ukraine Christmas Special Music event

21 November 2025

Freedom Pulse is a London-based brass ensemble formed in the summer of 2022. The group is made up of six professional musicians with academic training and experience playing in different orchestras and bands around the world. In the beginning we mainly performed at charity events in support of Ukraine, and since then the band has continued to grow. Our music mixes Ukrainian and British influences, and our repertoire includes elements of classical, jazz, pop and folk. They play their own brass arrangements of well-known songs and are also working on original material.

They've performed with Gavin Greenaway, played at festivals in Richmond, took part in the 2025 Kingston Festival, and regularly perform in Soho pubs, including The Spice of Life.

Their usual line-up is two trombones, two French horns, saxophone and drums.

For this concert it will be two trombones, one French horn, one trumpet, saxophone and drums.

Some of the songs they plan to play include:

1. Funky Town
2. I Feel Good
3. Danza (Lucky Chops)
4. Bad Guy (Billie Eilish)
5. Jingle Bell Rock

Come and enjoy a festive evening with food and soft drinks.

A leaving collection supports these wonderful Ukrainian musicians.
