EPSOM & EWELL TIMES
For the community, by the community. A not-for-profit service

19th November 2026

ISSN 2753-2771

EPSOM & EWELL TIMES

Up to £1 where sold

Hackney Impress To Dent Sutton's Title Ambitions

14 February 2023

Hackney Women 32 Sutton & Epsom Women 17. Sutton & Epsom womens rugby had not played a match since their 8 th January victory at Hammersmith & Fulham. They had been frustrated by the weather when hosting Hampstead and then endured the unexpected decision by table-toppers Battersea Ironsides to forfeit their fixture. The result was five weeks of competitive inactivity as they travelled to Hackney who were looking for revenge for the 22-5 defeat they suffered at the hands of S&E at Rugby Lane in November. The host's honour was restored with a hard fought 32-17 victory over the Black & Whites.

Hackney kicked off on a gloomy but still Sunday afternoon thankfully free from rain. The visitors failed to deal with the kick which would be a portent for things to come. Hesitation from Sutton and pressure from Hackney saw the hosts turn over the ball to gain possession in a prime position. S&E were under considerable strain defending scrums, lineouts and penalties in their 22 as the Londoners pressed for the opening score. Courageous defence against the rampant forwards delayed an inevitable score until it was spun wide for fullback Rachel Castola to squeeze in at the corner. The challenging conversion was missed but it was first blood to Hackney who led 5-0.

Sutton & Epsom went in search of a rapid reply forcing their opponents back into their 22. An offside penalty was kicked to the corner for the 5-metre lineout. The disappointment of losing the throw was immediately offset by a magnificent turnover. The backs were released and Aegean Leech finished with aplomb in the corner despite the attention of several defenders. With the scores level at 5-5 the Rugby Lane team prepared for the restart. Once again they invited pressure on themselves by not dealing adequately with the kick. In no time at all Hackney had the ball in their hands and took advantage of an overlap with a clinical finish on the flank by winger Allie Nelkom to restore Hackney's lead at 10-5.

Sutton returned to the offensive with Beth Evans carrying powerfully. The referee's whistle became a regular feature with a particular penchant for offside. As the offences mounted up the official issued a stern warning that the next infringement near the line would be costly. True to his word he flourished a yellow card to give S&E numerical superiority. At once the Black & Whites took advantage and Beth Evans, running an intelligent angle, took the pass near the ruck and was unstoppable from close-range. Another conversion fell short and it was all-square once more at 10-10.

The pendulum swung back with Hackney on the attack as their powerful pack provided plenty of ball. The pressure was ceaseless from the hosts and the defence heroic by the visitors. Twice players were held up over the line but the drop out clearance just initiated another attack from Hackney. Finally, Louise Edwards scored under the posts and with the conversion successful S&E trailed once more by 17-10. There were no further additions to the score as both sides listened to the sagacious words of their coaches during the interval. For the hosts it was a question of whether they could maintain their effort as they were dominant in the scrum or whether the tremendous workload already put in by their pack would see them fade in the latter stages. For the visitors they needed to reply once again and return to parity on the scoreboard and start to impose themselves on the game.

The second period started with Aegean Leech on a one-woman mission to level the scores. Taking the game by the scruff off the neck she took a quick tap penalty near halfway and was only halted in the 22. The retreating defence was penalised again and another Aegean Leech tap and go penalty saw her cross the whitewash. The conversion was added and for the third time Sutton had levelled the scores. It was the perfect start to the half but whether this was the turning of the tide remained to be seen.

The opening exchanges of the second period saw an outbreak of tactical kicking by both teams eager to establish the territorial advantage to attack. It was Hackney who once more took the lead. A tremendous break by Ella Harte put S&E on the back foot and it needed superlative defensive tackling from fullback Abby Wynne and Beth Evans to prevent the score. But the hosts would not be denied and Allie Nelkon collected her second try of the afternoon to regain the advantage at 22-17. Thunderous tackling and tremendous swarming pressure from Hackney buoyed by their tireless pack forced handling errors by Sutton. This time the visitors could not reply and ten minutes later it was the hosts who replied. Pouncing on a dropped ball the Londoners countered and the increasingly prominent centre Nia Watson-Campbell forced her way over the line. Hackney now had clear water and led 27-17.

The Black & Whites made every effort to get back on terms but the Hackney defence stood firm and did not allow the visitors any further addition to their tally. In fact the only additional score was from the hosts. Following a rather scrappy sequence of knock ons near halfway centre Ella Harte gathered the ball and set off for glory. A wonderful covering tackle in the corner by Zoe Smith denied the outside centre but her centre partner in crime Nia Watson-Campbell was rewarded for her excellent supporting run with her second try. That concluded the scoring and Hackney had deservedly won by 32-17.

© 2021-2026. No content may be copied without the permission of Epsom and Ewell Times Ltd. Registered office: Upper Chambers, 7 Waterloo Road, Epsom KT19 8AY

ISSN 2753-2771

It was a pulsating contest with nine tries between two evenly matched sides. Hackney had the upper hand in the scrums and had the benefit of being able to play on the front foot whereas S&E ball came on the retreat. Great credit must be given to the Hackney pack who were relentless from the first minute to the last carrying the ball powerfully and aggressively gaining those hard yards with flanker Camilla Turchetti quite outstanding. The backs finished clinically with Allie Nelkon collecting a brace of tries but it was the centre combination of Nia Watson-Campbell, who also scored twice, and Ella Harte that ensured that their possession was put to good use.
For Sutton & Epsom there was much to be commended. Emily Grainger's thunderous tackling set the tone for the determined pack with Beth Evans was very prominent in the loose. The talented back division did their utmost with limited possession with Aegean Leech to the fore. The defence was exceptional near their own line with fullback Abby Wynne making several try-saving tackles. Ultimately Hackney enjoyed the majority of the territory and possession and made good that statistical advantage. Though this was a disappointing result in terms of their title aspirations their chances for glory still lie in their own hands and were aided by Wimbledon defeating Hammersmith & Fulham 31-14.
Sutton & Epsom return to Rugby Lane next Sunday 19 th February for the visit of local rivals Wimbledon. The kick off will be at 2:30pm as the Black & Whites look to return to winning ways and press on towards the Promised Land of Promotion in what is turning out to be a most fascinating and competitive league.

Sutton & Epsom
Abby Wynne, Lucy Hoad, Aegean Leech, Olivia Lambe, Rachel Kinsella, Joe Evans, Zoe Smith, Tia Jones, Harriet Forsyth, Beth Evans, Robyn Bloomfield, Isabelle Keith, Alice Clarke, Bernadette Rees & Emily Grainger.
Replacements: Georgina Farrington, Natalie McCall, Charlotte Mahoney, Holly St George.
Hackney
Rachel Castola, Alex Nelkon, Ella Harte, Nia Watson-Campbell, Caroline Mitchell, Katie McAndrew, Flora Gibbons, Jessica Evans, Vanessa Riscado, Louise Edwards, Beth Patterson, Zara-Louise O'Toole, Camilla Turchetti, Carol Anderson, & Zoe Durbin.
Replacements: Kate Davidson, Ka Ling, Diane Anstis, Victoria Bibby, Justine Despins & Megan Hollyman.

© 2021-2026. No content may be copied without the permission of Epsom and Ewell Times Ltd. Registered office: Upper Chambers, 7 Waterloo Road, Epsom KT19 8AY